

Dear John Wesley Jones,

Contribution Details

-----
ID: 234

Title: Fake News, Post-Truth, and the New Propaganda

Review Result of the Program Committee:

I am very pleased to inform you that your paper has been accepted for a Work in Progress session at the 2024 Philosophy of Education Society annual meeting in Salt Lake City, Utah, March 8-11, 2024.

The pool of submissions this year was strong; and we received more worthy submissions than we were able to include on the program, in all categories. Please accept my sincerest congratulations on this recognition, by myself and the reviewers, that your submission shows a level of promise that merits the close attention of a colleague in the field. If you submitted this with a co-author, please share this message with them, as messages are only sent to the corresponding author.

I am in the midst of organizing the Conference Program schedule, and I hope to post those details by the middle of January. Please be advised that your session may be scheduled for anytime between Friday, March 8th at 9:00am and Monday, March 11th at 12:00pm. As I hope you will understand, involved, all attempts to change the program schedule after I make it create a chain reaction of unmanageable logistics; therefore, if you are unable to present during your assigned time, I will regrettably need to remove your paper from the conference program.

At your earliest convenience, please confirm receipt of this message and your intention to attend this WIP session at the conference by emailing Amy Shuffelton, Program Chair, at ashuffe@luc.edu

Individuals whose names appear on the PES program need to be current members of PES. If you have not yet joined or renewed your membership, please do so now at <https://www.philosophyofeducation.org/join-us>

Please also register for the conference and book your hotel room, via <https://www.philosophyofeducation.org/Conference> Be sure to renew your membership first, as members qualify for significant discounts.

See you in Salt Lake City!

Best regards,
Amy B. Shuffelton

Overview of Reviews

-----

Review 1

=====

Contribution of the Submission

-----

Using the Sokal hoax is a very nice element...new to PES?

Comments for the Authors

-----

The author provides a compelling and insightful set of arguments around politics grounded in philosophical reasoning and argumentation. Using the Sokal hoax is a very nice addition and it appears that the author is willing to (guardedly?) take to task the very postmodernists Sokal (correctly) indicts but who are unwilling to see how Trump is a logical extension of their logic. The writing is lovely, the points are clear. The ending leaves a bit to be desired...as though the author "ran out of steam." This point is not a criticism, per se, but a justification for definitely including this paper as a WIP on the program. Much potential here...

-----

Review 2

=====

Contribution of the Submission

-----

I think this paper is better than some of the regular submissions I read for concurrent sessions, and should be considered for the regular program. I wish the author of 231, for example, would read this paper.

Comments for the Authors

-----

I think this paper is better than some of the regular submissions I read for concurrent sessions, and should be considered for the regular program.

Your organizers of 2024 Annual Meeting of the Philosophy of Education Society (PES 2024).

--

2024 Annual Meeting of the Philosophy of Education Society (PES 2024)

Theme: Information, Misinformation, Disinformation

March 7-11, 2024 | Salt Lake City, Utah

<https://www.conftool.org/pes2024/>

<https://www.philosophyofeducation.org/Conference>